

Kansas City

A Haley & Aldrich hub for clients in the Midwest and beyond.

Clients rely on our geotechnical engineering and environmental consulting.

Located southwest of Kansas City, this Haley & Aldrich office provides a home base for consultants who specialize in contaminated site management, including:

- Construction
- Contaminated site management
- EHS compliance
- ESG and sustainability
- Geotechnical engineering
- Lean consulting
- Resilience
- Water resources

In addition to many other projects in the region, we helped a client redevelop a Superfund site into habitat for monarch butterflies – a project that exemplifies our commitment to client service and wise stewardship of resources.
