How EHS&S professionals can take advantage of their newfound fame

In Haley & Aldrich's Corporate Health and Safety Manager Danyale Hepler's article "How EHS&S Professionals Can Take Advantage of Their Newfound Fame," Danyale discusses how EHS&S practitioners can continue not only leading their organizations through the pandemic but use their now-more-prominent voices to prepare for the next inevitable disruption. The article was published in the Future of Business and Tech's "Workplace Health and Safety" edition and was included as a print insert in "USA Today" and online.
